"Business in the Black"

Do it Yourself Bankruptcy

by C. E. Belle

Many people believe that once they get into debt all sorts of terrible things will happen to them. Being in debt may be unpleasant, but it is not a disaster. You cannot be sent to jail for not paying your debts whether you have the money to do or not.

In some states like California most of your property including the equity in your house (if homesteaded) or mobile home, your clothing, your furniture, up to $1,000 in a savings and loan association, and an inexpensive used car are exempt and cannot be taken from you to pay other debts.

However, you can be sent to jail under criminal laws for not paying spousal support (alimony) or child support if, and only if, you have the ability to support and refuse to do so in the state of California. Naturally, no exemption law protects you from losing an item where you have failed to make payments on the item itself, and the item has been put up for security. Six months behild in car payments is usually grounds for repossession of the wheels, a case in point.

Putting all your debts under one roof is really not sufficient to save some people. Much of what passes for credit counseling is no more that a front for loan sharking, says attorneys Peter Jan Honigsberg and Ralph Warner. Attorneys Honigsberg and Warner have just published the third edition of Bill payer's Rights, a California debtor's handbook. They rwarn of worthless credit counselors who preach consolidation of all your bills, then "lend you more money at outrageous rates (up to 30 percent per year) rather than help you get out of debt."

Being overburdened with debt is a serious time to think of filing bankruptcy. The U.S. Supreme Court has declared bankruptcy a safe and sane act! Bailing out of debt troubles through bankruptcy is clearly not as cumbersome or a contagious a disease today as in the past. The U.S. Supreme Court has stated, "The purpose of the Bankruptcy Act is to insure a new opportunity in life, and a clear field for future effort, unhampered by the pressure and discouragement of pre-existing debt."

In short, get out of debt legally. Stop lawsuits, judgments, wage attachments, repossessions and creditors harassment. Keep your car, home mobile home, TV, appliances, furniture, clothes, wages and much more. Make a cut in monthly bills instantly and consolidate all bills and state and federal taxes for 2.5 percent per year!

You can read all the simple statement of the facts on bankruptcy for $5 in a booklet by John J. Slavicek, legal consultant and Robert J. Yohannan Attorney at law, The Consumer Guide to Bankruptcy and Chapter 13, published by the American Bankruptcy Council Inc., 2525 Van Ness Ave, San Francisco, Ca. 94109.

In the event you are already convinced and are ready, willing and able, save some money by ordering Attorney Janice Kosel's Bankruptcy-Do-It-Yourself, Nolo Press, 950 Parker Street, Berkeley, Ca. 94701.

Ralph Warner, edited this member of the California Bar's book which simplifies the filing for bankruptcy by all the stems from start to finish. Recent studies have shown more and more people are becoming overburdened with debt.

Whatever the underlyinbg causes, record numbers of personal bankruptcies have been filed in recent years. Over the last three decades the number of bankruptcies has risen over 2,000.

You will not be alone in the bankruptcy line!!!

Mark Twain at TCC

Tacoma native Bill Moeller brings his one-man tribute to famous author and lecturer Mark Twain to TCC Oct. 29th.

The performance, scheduled for 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Student Lounge, Building 11, is composed of speeches written by the great American humorist. The program is offered through the TCC Associated Students noon time activity series.

Moeller's critically acclaimed authentic portrayal of the salty humorist ranges from whimsical reminiscences of Twain's youth as Samuel Clemens, to the benefits of "vile" habits, to a thunderous treatment of the hypocrisy of the day. He uses authentic make-up and costumes to perfect the character.

The performance is free to the public. For more information, contact the TCC Office of Student Activities.

DMSO Alert

Olympia -- State health officials are concerned about the potential dangers to health from misuse of the substance DMSO (Dimethyl Sulfoxide), which is currently being sold at commercial outlets across the state as a degreaser.

Dr. Samuel Milham of the state Health Services Division said persons using the substance for medicinal purposes could suffer ill effects because of the product's unassured quality and purity.

Milham said the commercially available DMSO, used by some persons to treat arthritis and muscle strains and sprains, has not been approved for medicinal use by the federal Food and Drug Administration. Because DMSO is a powerful solvent which easily penetrates the body's membranes and tissues, any impurities in the product or on the skin of the user are carried directly into the body. Those impurities could be poisonous, he said.

The strength of the DMSO being marketed is not known. Industrial DMSO ranges in concentration from 90 to 99 percent, Milham said, while the FDA- approved product, used for treatment of a rare bladder condition, has a 50 percent concentration.

State and federal health officials don't know with what, or how much, the product has been diluted, Milham said. Another concern is that unsupervised use could cause neglect of a serious medical problem.

Thanks From the Guild

by Bonnie Pinkney

Sunday Oct. 12, 1980, at the Cabellaros Club, was the setting for the first Cocktail Sip of the year for the Tacoma Urban League Guild.

Thanks to "your" participation, we hosted a successful affair. The house was packed both upstairs and down!!! We listened to oldies but goodies with a little bit of Disco thrown in for good measure; gave each person a copy of their Zodiac sign, as well as having signs that were compatable placed next to each other on tables. Of course, we paid specail tribute to all of the Libras who were in attendance. This was capped off by the drawing of three names of birthday people. Three lucky persons were also chosen for sitting in the special seats with numbers attached. Congratulations to all of our winners!

To all of the people who signed up at our membership table, welcome aboard. We are looking forward to working with you, and having you as an intrical part of our group.

To all of the guild members who worked so hard to make this a success; "You are great, thanks." To our ways and means chairperson and her committee, the fruits of your labor was very visual in the successful, enjoyable, time shared by all!!

Remember, this was our first affair for the year, but by no means will it be our last! We will be looking for you at the next affair!!!!

VETERANS INFO

Q -- What is the maximum amount I can borrow on a VA guaranteed home loan? I've been told it is four times the $25,000 guaranty. Is this correct?

A -- There is no legal limit on the amount of a loan. The VA will guarantee 60 percent of a loan not to exceed $25.000. The amount you may borrow is determined by the loan institution's lending policy and your ability to repay the loan.

Q -- When the Veterans Administration suspends or terminates an educational award payment on a veteran, must the VA also notify the veteran of this action?

A -- Yes. The VA must send a notice of suspended or terminated benefits to the veteran simultaneously with the action to suspend or stop an educational award. The notice also must explain the veteran's entitlement to know the reasons for the suspension or termination and the veteran's right to respond.

Q -- What is the maximum annual clothing allowance an eligible veteran bay receive?

A -- The maximum annual clothing allowance is $240. Eligible is any veteran entitled to receive compensation for a service connected disability for which he or she wears or uses one or more prosthetic or orthopedic appliances, including a wheelchair, which the VA determines tends to wear out or tear clothing.

Virginia Taylor's Outside Looking In

Chris Sergienko, President of League of Women Voters gave an overview on the issues to the Black Collective this past Saturday. One issue she brought to the attention of the group was the hard time handicapped people have getting registered. They can vote absentee ballot.

Next week I will have a report on the Political Awareness Rally at St. John's on Monday night.

There will be a fund raiser for Ron Wilson, candidate for the state legislature, 27th District Position. The fund raiser will be held at 1905 So. Hosmer, Friday, October 24th, from 5-9p.m. Come out and support this fine Black man who wishes to serve.

For all federal employees: When you give to the Federal Campaign Fund, you may now designate the NAACP. It has been added as a national service agency.

Budget cuts in government - It seems as if what I predicted has come to pass. There's a shortfall in the city budget, and the cuts are coming. Many Blacks and other minorities will be in the unemployment line. If Affirmative Action is to mean anything, there must be a way to address terminations so that the last hired will not be the first fired. I am urging support of the charter. Vote yes...because we (the people of Pierce County) need the right of self determination. Home rule is the cry. The opponents are crying about the costs of seven council persons...So what!! They (County Commissioners) have wasted a fortune on the computer system - and other loose ends. Seven people may not have made those mistakes, checks and balances, that's in the charter - seperation of powers, and the right to change it in four years if we don't like some things - A no vote means: the will of most of the people will not be heard. People against the charter don't often give but one argument that makes (cents) sense (costs). Three people should not have all of the power that the County Commissioners have. All the resources of the county at the whim of two men. I say two because two makes a majority when there's three. Vote yes on the Home Rule Charter.

Chuck Horne of the State Division of Criminal Justice was selected to attend the National Minority Advisory Council held in Washington D.C. October 16,17, and 18th. He will be giving a report Saturday at the Black Collective.

The NAACP Executive Board meets the 2nd Monday of the month. The NAACP Branch meets the 4th Monday of the month. Meeting held at 7:00p.m., 1108 So. 13th St. The Black Women's Caucus of Washington meets the 1st Saturday of the month at 10 a.m., 1108 So. 13th. The Black Collective meets every Saturday morning at 8:00 a.m., 2311 So. Yakima, Colored Women's Clubhouse.

Attention all NAACP members - election year information:

The Tacoma Branch of the NAACP will appoint a Nomination Committee at its branch meeting on Monday, October 27th, at 7:30 p.m. The office is located at 1108 So. 13th St.

In order to vote at the coming November election of officers, a member must be in good standing with a valid membership card.

TONY BROWN'S JOURNAL

Miami and the expectations of more urban unrest has turned the nation's attention once more to the Black poor. Since the militancy of the 1960s, a new Black middle class arose only to be outgrown by a tough, volatile Black underclass.

Until now, no Black intellectual had redefined and studied this new phenomenon. Dr. Douglas G. Glasgow, a Black scholar and former dean at Howard University's School of Social Work, has captured his years of research in an important new book, "The Black Underclass" (Jossey-Bass).

He writes that the modest gains in Black income and employment levels cannot conceal the existence of a permanent Black underclass in America -- the hundreds of thousands of destitute Black men and women for whom escaping poverty remains a distant dream. And the problem worsens steadily as this underclass expands, absorbing ever greater numbers of young Blacks who, because they lack education and salable skills, cannot gain access to the mainstream of American life.

Starting from data and insights gained during his own unique participant-observer study of young Blacks in the Watts area of Los Angeles, Glasgow explains how ghetto males develop socially dysfunctional "survival tactics" in response to institutional racism and ghettoism; how education fails them as a means of achieving social mobility; and how social institutions, programs and agencies tend to reinforce the conditions that entrap them.

But even more important, Glasgow provides new understanding of the aspirations, psychological propensities, and motivations of ghetto youth; and he outlines a long-term program for improving the depressed environment and dispelling the economic hopelessness with which these youthful members of the Black underclass must now contend.

Dr. Glasgow is specific: "The underclass is distinguished from the lower class principally by its lack of mobility. According to classical definitions, the lower-class experience is a variation of middle-class adaptation and striving. The perennial expressions 'I did better than my father' (who in turn did better than his) and 'My sons and daughters will do even better than I' typify this experience. It is precisely the inapplicability of such statements to underclass people that sets them apart; for most are the sons and daughters of previous generations of the poor, and their children will predictably remain in the grip of poverty.

"The term underclass does not connote moral or ethical unworthiness, nor does it have any other pejorative meaning; it simply descrives a relatively new population in industrial society. It is not necessarily culturally deprived, lacking in aspirations, or unmotivated to achieve. Many of the long-term poor, those who have never moved from the level of bare subsistence living, are essentially part of the underclass. They try to keep body and soul together and maintain a job, but they remain immobile, part of the static poor."

It not only pleases me that

TEEN SCENE

Friday, I went to Zenia Crockrell's party. It was crowded and we had a good time. I'm sure it was profitable. I heard that in Oakland, California, they charge $5.00 for house parties - too rich for my blood.

Foss won its first football game. Congratulations Falcons, especially to Mark Caldwell. He made two touchdowns and gained 246 yards. Look out Huskies and SeaHawks.

PUSH/EXCEL Football Players for the week of October 3, 1980 are: Bob Overmas, lineman from Henry Foss and Mark Glabe, back from Stadium. Week of October 10, 1980 are: Curtis Doyle, lineman from Henry Foss and Calvin Kennon, back from Wilson.

Plans are being made to include all sports during the school year.

Please address news of your happenings, parties, etc., to me, Kim Bailey C/O The Tacoma Facts, 1036 So. Sprague Ave, Tacoma, 98405, Ph. 627-5597. I'd also like to include your poems, drawings and short stories in my column. This is our spot in The Tacoma Facts. Let's use it!

Halloween safety tips

Unless precautions are taken, "Trick or Treat" evening can be a dangerous one for your children, says Olga V. Fuste', Washington State University's Pierce County Extension agent.

Masks reduce your child's field of vision, blocking out traffic, stairs, curbs, and other hazards. The National Safety Council strongly advises against their use. Children should also not be allowed to use plastic sacks as masks. They can cause suffocation.

Costumes should allow easy movement. They shouldn't be too bulky or likely to trip your child. Also make sure your child is visible to traffic. Light-colored costumes and reflectorized tape attached to costumes and the sides of sacks will make them easy to see.

Encourage children to use flashlights to increase their visibility. Make certain they stay away from jack o lantern candles. Costumes can catch fire easily. Knives or other sharp instruments, even make-believe ones, can cause serious injury if a child falls.

Encourage children to "trick or treat" in a group, with at least one adult present.

With all the excitement of Halloween, it might be a good idea to remind children to cross streets at intersections.

such a scholarly and disciplined mind as Dr. Glasgow's is trained on such a complex subject, but a great deal of pride is aroused in me to see a Black define the condition of Blacks.

"How did they arrive in this condition? Are they immobile because they are genetically inferior, mentally impoverished, or lacking in motivation or aspiration as many have claimed? Is it that they are just plain lazy, have no desire to work or hold a job, and just prefer to receive handouts? Any such thesis is an oversimplification, if not a distortion, of the complex relationship between ghetto youth and the traditional institutions of society.
